RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT

CHERYL L.

Cheryl's daughter describes her mother as a "party animal" during her younger years. Cheryl and her late husband would always be in cocktail bars dancing the night away. She also enjoyed travelling and loves her grandson Joshi with all her heart. Cheryl is an avid member of our Summer Mile Club as well as our Gardening Club. Cheryl keeps herself busy and surrounds herself with friends she can laugh with and share stories.

EXTRAORDINARY PEOPLE, EXTRAORDINARY NEWS

For all you gentle readers,
Two of my favorite things... diamonds and celebrities ... come together this month. One of our residents worked as the private secretary for Harry Winston, aka the "King of Diamonds" for over 20 years! Winston was a luxury jeweler whose masterpieces dangled from the necks and hands of Hollywood Oscar winners and international royalty alike. In fact, Winston was the last private owner of the beautiful and notorious Hope Diamond. The jeweler donated this spectacular blue diamond to the Smithsonian Institution in 1958. I'd venture this secretary has stories that will sparkle as brightly as Winston's legendary pieces.

Yorkshire Day

TALK OF THE TOWN

Monday, August 1 at 2:00 pm

Yorkshire Day is celebrated every year on August 1, and while the purpose is to promote the historic county of Yorkshire, England, the date of August 1 was also chosen to celebrate it because it dates back to the passing of the British Empire's Slavery Abolition Act 1833 on August 1 in 1834. It was Yorkshire native and British politician William Wilberforce who was the leading English abolitionist, and he led the parliamentary campaign against the British slave trade for 20 years until the passage of the Slave Trade Act of 1807. Wilberforce was convinced of the importance of religion, morality and education, causes for which he spent his lifetime campaigning on. Wilberforce continued to campaign for the complete abolition of slavery, but had to resign from Parliament in 1826 due to his failing health. His campaigning, however, led to the Slavery Abolition Act 1833, and Wilberforce died just three days after hearing that the passage of the Act through Parliament was assured.

Yorkshire is the largest county in the UK, and today, Yorkshire Day is a celebration that encompasses anything to do with Yorkshire, from cooking and confectionary delights to honoring its history and military customs. To "properly" follow tradition, one must read the Yorkshire Declaration of Integrity. The white rose is the emblem of Yorkshire (dating back to Edmund of Langley, the first Duke of York and founder of the House of York, a dynasty related to the Plantagenet kings), so wearing a white rose with pride is also a tradition affiliated with the day.

Poet of the Month STEVIE SMITH

(1902 - 1971)

MONDAY, AUGUST 1

10:00 AM

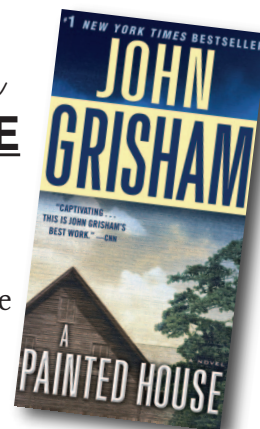

In recognition of Yorkshire Day, our Poet of the month is Yorkshire-born Florence Margaret Smith. Adopting the pen name of Stevie Smith, she was considered a sophisticated if not eccentric poet whose work often covered suffering and mortality. Her most famous poem, "Not Waving But Drowning", and many of her other writings, explored (in the words of Poetry contributor David Wright), "the mysterious, rather sinister reality which lurks behind appealing or innocent appearances." Smith was awarded the Cholmondeley Award for Poets in 1966 and the Queen's Gold Medal for Poetry in 1969. She died of a brain tumor in 1971.

A PAINTED HOUSE

TUESDAY, 8/09 AT 2:00 PM

Told through the eyes of seven-year-old Luke Chandler, and set in the late summer and early fall of 1952, A Painted House is the story of a family of cotton farmers struggling to harvest their crop and earn enough to settle their debts. Written by John Grisham, and set outside the legal thriller genre he usually works with, the novel portrays the experiences that bring this young boy from a world of innocence into one of harsh reality. The book was also made into a movie starring Robert Sean Leonard and Scott Glenn in 2003.

SENIOR CITIZENS DAY

SUNDAY, AUGUST 21 AT 3:00 PM

It's a cliché that all senior citizens sit around knitting or crocheting, but chances are that your loved one does have a hobby, pursuit, or pastime that they'd love to teach you. It could be a craft, a card game, a dance, or a useful skill — how to tie a bow tie, how to parallel park, etc. You might not even have known what skills and talents they have which means you get to learn something new about them, bringing you closer together. Regardless, it will mean the world to them to pass on their knowledge and expertise to you!

NATIONAL WELLNESS MONTH

Wellness Talk - Thursday, August 25 at 1:30 pm

August marks the beginning of National Wellness Month! If you aren't familiar with the term "wellness", it refers to developing habits that lead to a happier and healthier life. Even though August is technically Wellness Month, you should try to aim for wellness every day!

Here are just a few of our favorite tips to increase your wellness!

Get Moving!

Physical activity not only can help you get in shape but also strengthens your immune system!

Get Talking!

Socializing with others is not only fun, but it also can lower stress!

Get Positive!

Remember all the wonderful things that you're grateful for!

Get Your Beauty Sleep!

Sleeping at a consistent time makes your body know when to go to sleep! Try to avoid using electronics in bed.

Baseball Talk

Thursday, 25
3:00 pm

It's the heart of baseball season, and in fact, Baseball Fans Day is August 12! So this month, our resident baseball fans are invited to join in on what is likely to be a lively discussion (debate?) on who are our favorite MLB teams, what team do we think will win the World Series this year, and everything else baseball-related! One baseball fan that is sure to be present supporting her favorite team is none other than enthusiastic Dodgers Fan, Collette!

Collette shows off her Dodger wares! Collette has been a Dodgers fan since grade school, she collects Dodger Bobbleheads, and her favorite player is Clayton Kershaw, whom she actually saw pitch at his first game at Dodger Stadium! Her favorite game was when Kershaw pitched his no-no (no-hitter) on June 18, 2014 against the Colorado Rockies.

*Our Resident
Dodger Fan Collette*

So join us for this inaugural discussion, and while we're talking, let's all enjoy some of our favorite baseball snacks: mini-hotdogs, peanuts and beer!

Chef's Demo

Tropical Hawaiian Ambrosia Fruit Salad

Tuesday, August 30
2:00 pm

This month, August has been sprinkled by everything tropical, and so linking that with National Toasted Marshmallow Day, let's learn how to make this classic no-bake dessert!
